A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay and/or when you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

How much does it cost?

1 Sales charges

This series is available on a "no-load" basis which means that you do not pay a sales charge when you buy this series.

2 Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the fund's returns. As at December 31, 2011, the fund's expenses were 2.25% of its average value. This equates to $22.50 for every $1,000 invested.

This is the total of the fund's management fee, administration fee and any other expenses. TDAM waived some of the fund's expenses. If it had not done so, the MER would have been higher.
Trading expense ratio (TER)	0.17%
These are the fund's trading costs.

Trailing commission

TDAM pays your investment firm, including a discount broker, a trailing commission for as long as you own the fund. It is for the services and advice your investment firm provides to you. Investment firms may pay part of the trailing commission to their representatives. The trailing commission is paid out of the management fees paid to TDAM. The rate is up to 1% of the value of your investment each year. This equals $10 each year for every $1,000 invested.

3 Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or switch securities of the fund.
